

Bank management system

Abstract:

The bank account management system is an application that allows customers to perform basic transactions from one account to another account. The system allows both employees and customers to manage the customers record and customers can access the bank website to perform basic operations like to view balance in the account and to transfer amount from customer to customer. Here we are maintaining some tables to fetch and update data of customers .

